1. Academic qualifications and posts

I received my B.A. in English Philology (September 2006) and my Ph.D in English Philology (December 2014) with International Mention and a final qualification of excellent cum laude from the Autonomous University of Barcelona (Spain). My PhD dissertation, Emmaus as a transnational imagined community: Language, interdiscursivity and stratification in a social movement, is a multi-sited, critical ethnography of a transnational social movement called Emmaus carried out in English, Spanish, Catalan and French. It explores the linguistic, discursive and semiotic creation of sameness, difference and stratification in this transnational imagined community. During my PhD, I carried out two 3-month research stays with Professor Celia Roberts in King's College London (UK) and with Professor Susan Gal in the University of Chicago (USA). I also taught undergraduate courses at the Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona (2006-2012) and at the Universitat Internacional de Catalunya (2012-2015).

Following my doctorate, I have so far worked in three different institutions. I was Assistant Lecturer at Universitat Internacional de Catalunya (2015) and Postdoctoral Researcher at the University of Fribourg in Switzerland (2015-2017). In 2015, I also collaborated with the Universitat Oberta de Catalunya as Associate Lecturer. The project "Humanitarians on the move", funded by a Swiss Confederation Excellence Scholarship (September 2015- August 2016), explored language, mobility and identity in the trajectories of skilled workers who cross linguistic and national borders for humanitarian work at the International Committee of the Red Cross. The subsequent "Communicating Humanitarianism in Arabic" research project (2016-2017), partly funded by the University of Fribourg, investigates the linguistic management of mobile Arabic-speaking communication specialists at the ICRC in order to grasp the impact of Arabic competences on post allocation and career paths. I have taught 3 MA courses in the domain of Multilingual Studies during my postdoctoral stay in Fribourg. In August 2017, I will take up a post as Maître Assistante (Lecturer) in English Linguistics at the University of Lausanne for a period of 4 years.

11. Knowledge transfer

- Coordinator of Mou-te en català, a collaborative action research to design and implement Catalan language materials among volunteer teachers, adult learners and two young researchers in a Catalan migrant-support NGO that provides informal education in the Catalan language. This project transfers and applies the knowledge generated in my MA thesis on multilingualism in a residential project for homeless migrants with the social actors involved. We have produced a book chapter (Garrido and Oliva 2015) and a conference presentation in LESSLA (2013) about this action research. Thanks to the webpage (<http://www.mouteencatala.com>), the materials are used throughout Catalonia.
- Teacher-researcher in Campus Ítaca, a socioeducational programme at the Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona aiming to stimulate adolescents with promising academic abilities at risk of school dropout to continue to non-compulsory education. Within this project, Emilee Moore and I ran so-called ‘English language’ workshops that actually aim to empower students’ plurilingual repertoires through the writing and performance of language biography raps. Emilee Moore, Cristina Aliagas and I have co-edited a Special Issue on Hip-hop Pedagogies for Linguistics and Education (2016) where I have co-authored a piece on this action research with Moore. Besides, we were invited to organise a workshop on using rap in the classroom for primary and secondary school teachers at the Escola d'Estiu Rosa Sensat in July 2015. Emilee Moore and I have published a popular science article for Perspectiva Escolar (2017) targeting teachers and rap artists.
- Invited lecturer to disseminate the results of my ethnographic research in Postgrau en Política Lingüística i Gestió del Multilingüisme [Postgraduate degree in Linguistic Policy and the Management of Multilingualism] (UB, 2012 and 2013), Màster d'ensenyament de català per a l'acolliment lingüístic [Master in Catalan teaching for linguistic welcome] (UAB, 2013) and an Intercultural communication module for Semester Abroad American undergraduates (CEA Global Campus /University of New Haven, 2010-15).

12. Other activities/ merits

- Lecturer Accreditation (acreditació de lector) awarded by the Agència per a la Qualitat del Sistema Universitari de Catalunya.
- Reviewer for the Journal of Sociolinguistics, Russian Journal of Linguistics, and Bellaterra Journal of Teaching and Learning Language and Literature, as well as Sociolinguistics Summer School 8, BAAL Congress 2017 & International Conference Approaches to migration, language and identity.
- February-August 2015: Edition and consultancy for manuscript “Singular and Plural: Ideologies of Linguistic Authority in 21st Century Catalonia” by Prof. Kathryn A. Woolard (UCSD) published by Oxford University Press (2016).
- Coordinator of Lyon-Fribourg Sociolinguistics Seminar for early career researchers with Kevin Petit (ICAR, Lyon). 2nd Edition 11th May 2017 at the University of Fribourg.
- Training course: Key Concepts and Methods in Ethnography, Language & Communication, King’s College London, 25-29 June 2012.
- 2006-07: Research assistant in Prof. Kathryn A. Woolard’s (UCSD) ethnography in Catalonia.

Paràgraf de presentació

Candidatura a una vocalia d'EDiSo

Presento la meva candidatura a una vocalia d'EDiSo perquè vull implicar-me encara més en aquesta associació per tal de canviar les dinàmiques de la creació i la disseminació del coneixement sobre el discurs en les nostres societats. Personalment, voldria contribuir a una generació del coneixement des de les bases i amb la implicació de diferents actors socials. Crec fermament que per canviar el sistema neoliberal, patriarcal i nacionalista cal apostar per xarxes participatives, plurilingües i equitatives com la que construeix EDiSo. Per aquesta raó voldria aportar el meu granet de sorra a la directiva d'EDiSo, sobretot en l'àrea de la comunicació i de l'activisme. La meva experiència dintre de la Comissió de Comunicació m'ha permès veure com funciona l'associació i treballar amb diferents companyes en projectes de disseminació científica. En els propers dos anys, m'agradaria formar part del repte de continuar i ampliar les activitats d'aquesta associació plurilingüe, interdisciplinària i compromesa. Hi puc aportar la meva experiència internacional, el meu repertori plurilingüe i les ganes de construir una alternativa a les plataformes d'èlit dintre del món acadèmic.
